Dear Father
I had intended leaving here to spend a few days at Burrard's Inlet, tomorrow, but have decided to wait & give the snow a chance of getting out of the woods, till next Friday.
I want to see what can be done in the way of getting samples of timber there, & specimens of foliage to properly identify the trees. Also en route to arrange some matters connected with specimens for the exhibition at New Westminster.
Getting a few things for the exhibition takes a great deal of time, & I don't get it over as it breaks up the day so much that I can hardly attend to anything else. At Burrard's Inlet I may however get a chance of getting 67 ~~of~~ ~~the~~ ~~Coals~~ ~~at~~ ~~Cyprus~~ there.

I had hoped to write at some length, but must defer doing so, till next time.

In writing to Capt. Anderson, I promised to send a corrected list of plants, in case he may want to reprint my report or any part of it. I have looked over the printed list for errors, & will send a Memorandum of them this mail or next. Perhaps Anna might insert Hooker's names & corrections in the margin of a copy of the list, & put up the whole addressed to Capt. A. Foreign Office. I don't suppose there is the slightest hurry in the matter, & it will do quite as well after Xmas, as before.

I only wish I had a time & opportunity to work up the shells thoroughly, & get them published.

In Scudder's note enclosed to me, you will have noticed that he had not at the time of writing received two extra copies of Entomological Notes.

I left instructions with the Herald people, & they have no doubt been attended to before this. I wrote to Scudder a few days ago telling him my little collection of flies from the Tertiary here, in hopes that he would like to examine them. I spoke to Selwyn on the subject before he left, & he seemed quite willing that Scudder should have the examination if he would undertake it.

With regard to the Grasshopper Circulars, of which you say some more have been returned from the N.W. If Rankins would take the trouble of going to my Secretary's drawer he will find the whole bundle. He can easily select those from Manitoba & N. of the line, & I think they are all in one bunch - If you think ~~the~~ with the additional ones lately received there are enough to be gathered please bundle them up & send them by mail & I will take an early opportunity of abstracting them & send the abstract to the Naturalist.

I dare think it would be worth while going into the region I give since which has already been pretty fully discussed in former parts of the

My information is I think your objection is

George
New of British woods into the transfer of your fine secretary, however he will
select them from the contents of N. 10 line, & I think they are all in one book - of your think the
