

Ottawa, Saturday

July 22

My dear Mother,

I mail to you

copy of a book I read last Spring & which at the time I thought you might like to read. I ordered it the other day from Montreal with some others. You can let me know what you think of it after perusal.
I was sorry to hear from one of father's relatives that you had been unwell, but as the same letter informed me that you were better again I did not write to commiserate. Everything goes on here much as usual & there is likely to be no break in the Monday tell the screen of Jews.

I wrote to W & father lately about the reg. offer to the power & should be interested in knowing what W. decides when you hear

Love to all

George
