My dear George

Thank you very much
for your kind thoughtful answer to some crude suggestions I sent in regards to papa's Biography. I am sure your proposition, that I should send it all to papa & make notes of alterations, is good & would give him an opportunity of a pleasant kind, on the other hand if he hears it? Before this question about the biography came to his mind he consulted Dr. Blackader as to what risk he seen in simply dictating a few sentences wh: he intended as a close to the biography, & he said, he did not see a balance between the benefit & the risk then he mt by & I mt watch & note details.

 & I am not sure here - rather think it will unfavorable - but as under all circumstances, especially unstable changes, he believes I do not think any one can feel sure. & he himself becomes so much interested when when fairly treated at such work that he can not be trusted to judge for himself. As for me I think my heart is fast getting into a similar condition to papa's. With these uncertainties it is wise I think to avoid committing ourselves to a definite plan until further opportunity is given for discussion what is really a thing of some importance.
 At present I do not wish to trouble Anne as she is much occupied preparing for class next trying prospect of going to the Genesee Hospital to be operated on, probably middle of of next week. Since I will go with her I remember the first night after I will be there constantly during the day for several days or her early in the whole time so there she will be consequently with home. But here I am interrupted I must abruptly close

Sincerely
Mother

Now father was here in law suits yesterday - the weather was atrocious The day's brightens has apparently quite revived him

Prof. Geo. Peck

Thank you very much
to some queries I sent you in regard to paper & geography. I am very glad to hear that I shall be able to paper & make notes of observations in regard to some of the of a previous time, on the other hand he has it? paper this question about the biography of his name in connection with the... as to what side he has in chiefly exhibiting a few instances of the as a class to the biography, to be done in the with a balance between the two
