Congratulations
for the new year 1892

4 Toddison Gardens

Keensington 18th Feby 1892

My Dear Dr. George

I am, what doctors call, "down on my back ends", and have been so for 9 or 10 days, with influenza and its terminals, which are usually worse than the disease itself, but as I am or have been just replying to a letter from Sir William I add this scribble of note to yourself, congratulating you on the probable success, in the very interesting and important work, you have recently taken, and still taking a part in -

I would ^{have} written you before, but thought you would probably be over in England with your colleagues and we would have the hope of seeing you again for we have never forgotten the days of your studies at Janyu Street, with Sir A. Ramsay

All join in kindest regards

Yours very truly John Rae
