Boston, Massachusetts.

Dear Cushing,

I have just finished reading the first volume of the life of Sir William Osler and I cannot wait to start the second volume before congratulating you upon the excellence of your work and thanking you for the great amount of pleasure I have derived from reading this biography. You seem to have escaped all the usual errors of a biographer and you have certainly presented a most readable and most entertaining account of Osler's life.

For this masterpiece of literature, and for the personal delight derived from it, accept my congratulations and personal thanks.

Sincerely yours,

Henry O. Reik, M. D.
Editor.
