Dear Doctor Cushing:

Please let me write just frankly and as I feel. I was so delighted with your address - the philosophic opening, the historical setting, the heart-felt atmosphere of incident and anecdote, always a kindly word for the worthy living or dead, and the strong constructive grip of the whole subject. My own father was Professor of operative & clinical surgery at the Loy Island College Hospital for many years up to his death in 1901 and a great deal in your address went home to me the deeper for that reason. That story of your Mother's perturbation over her "child" at the railway station is adorable and it made me think back on my own mother dead many years now and also how many lovely people there are in this world one never knows of until they chance on a portrait like this at your hand that is so real it is always

To any reader who has a heart, I am enclosing you a clipping of the Election at the T. S. Club. Mr Lambert was as inevitable as delightful. We never had a better evening; we never shall. The boys enjoyed him exceedingly. I am glad to see members of your group & their friends interested in the Club. It is really this close alignment with the Osler group that gives the Club its background & tradition and as I have said before I feel it is our most valuable asset. Thank you again for your "address".

Most sincerely

Carol Wright
