To Professor Harvey Cushing M.D.

Dear Dr. Cushing

I am so sorry to have troubled you about the other letters which you did return to me and which I have ^{now} found in a letter case.
You see, when I left Halifax ill, I took nothing with me, and all my belongings were put afloat and somewhat in confusion, so that I lost sight of many before for a time. Since writing to you I have seen a copy of the biography at the college of surgeons and have been charmed with it. I venture to congratulate you on the achievement. I am indeed free from teaching duties; but have to undertake a great deal to supplement my very small "disability" pension.

I am only periphrastic in kind regards;
I am yours sincerely
Dorcas Harris.
