Dr. Harvey Cushing,
Peter Bent Brigham Hospital,
Boston, Mass.,

Dear Harvey:-

I am just back from my vacation and find your very kind letter of September 12th. It was very kind of you to write as you do. I hope the 10th edition is not too much of a let down.

I wonder if you have seen a review of the Biography in the International Book Review of the Literary Digest? I saw a copy in Canada but was unable to purchase one. It is altogether likely that your attention has been drawn to it.

It has been very interesting to find how many people in Canada outside of the medical profession are reading the Biography. Every one is most enthusiastic about it and I have no doubt that its influence will go on widening for a long time. The comment on the remarkable way in which you have effaced yourself is practically universal. A man said to me that if you were as good a surgeon as you are a biographer, you must be a wonder.

With kind regards,

Yours very sincerely,

Thomas McCrae
