Dear Harry -

I got in some time ago with a copy of "The Life" under my arm, learning second of a one of the damn town stores.

I did not put it down 'til I had gone through it (not read it), both volumes, from cover to cover. It's splendid and I congratulate you with all my heart. How happy Lady Oble must be over it! It a beautiful tribute.

Now, after you've had a breathing spell, take up Harstad. You must do it, but we forget the one surgical philosopher and real fundamental "Baku-breder" our country has seen. It will lack some of the variety and number of the pictures that must have made the Old Job such a joy - but surely, you could it, you must do it, you or Meaton - I think my wife is for you - I know it is!

Yours
