PATHOLOGIST

Dear Tante Grace:

Do please scribble off on this same sheet, to save both of us trouble, some details of your first summer abroad together, so that I can have a little better idea of your movements. What did you do during June, which I have said that you spent in London? Did you visit the Shapers, for example, go to Oxford and Cambridge, and see Ackland, Burdon Sanderson and Allbutt? (I must begin to touch on the coming Regius appointment. Ackland is made Regius in Cambridge this same year.). I suppose you were soon discovered and subjected to dinners, etc.

How about Devon and Cornwall during July, and could you possibly have gone to the Trinity Tercentennial in Dublin, where most of W.O.'s friends were gathered?

I know about Nottingham and suppose you went with the small party for Sunday at Lincoln the day after the meeting. Do you recall anything especial about whether any other particular friends went along?

The meeting of psychologists in London was on August first. W.O. says in a letter to Lafleur that you were going to the seashore with Gowers. Where was this? And were there any other special places you went to or people you visited?

Do you remember that there was a bad cholera scare, and even New York quarantined?

Did you go home via Canada and go to the Abbott wedding, or go up there from Philadelphia after reaching home?

You will see where I am by these questions.

Much love. Hande

- 1 Had bonus in Charles St. Saw his old friends - dined & wine Spent week at Rickmansworth with Schaper. Oxford for the day only, as far as I remember - Lunched at Acklands - he offered to have the picture of Linacre - Harry & Sybil - copied his things on the mantle in ^{his} library - it was copied & sent to Balt. Do not recall seeing Sanderson or Allbutt. Ackland was then Regius in Cambridge.
- 2 - Went to Falmouth & visited Miss Osler (Aunt) - posted from Penzance along Cornish Coast - Came to live in England.
- 3 Tercentennial in Dublin was after we came to live in England.
- 4 Did not go to Lincoln with Party - were there alone &
at York.
- 5 Dr. Roddick & Dr. Alloway ^{of Montreal} were with us in Nottingham
I think.
- 6 I think it was during the meeting of Psychologists in London
that we dined at the Howleys - just as they ^{then} moved into Canons Square - but do not think it was there

7. He returned early in August - to New York - went to my house in Phila - Hearing on the ship that no 1 W. Franklin was available - W.O dashed down to Balto to get a note to Mr. Curzon Hoffman - Looked in the front door of no 1 - Made an offer. Came back to Phila - & said "I've bought a house, I mean mean you to leave 112 Walnut St. Phila until I found as nice a ~~two~~ one in the house one."
Went to Toronto to the wedding (Abbott)

There now is - I think my memory is quite good for my advanced years! My t.
