Dear Cushing:

Several more copies of the chief's letters have gone to you. Those being sent off to-day relate to the period in which the University of Pennsylvania was looking about for a pathologist to succeed Guiteras. You know how eager the chief was to help people find and get into "posts". He was obviously helping me. I suppose the men (his friends) at the University of Pennsylvania were turning to him for guidance and he was pushing my candidacy.

Best holiday wishes to you, Kate,
and the bairns.

Yours sincerely,

Dr. Harvey Cushing,
Peter Bent Brigham
Hospital,
Boston, Mass.
