Dear Mrs. Parfitt

I cannot tell you how distressed I am to leave Toronto without seeing Charles. It was quite my intention to visit him but so many matters of the greatest importance came up about the new Hospital and the University that I could not escape, either yesterday or Monday. I got here on Friday to find my mother wonderfully well. She enjoyed the day so much. I had a long talk with C about Charles, whom he had just seen. I am glad to hear that he thinks him better and should gradually pick up. I do hope he may gain strength as the acute process subsides. Let me have a line to the J.H.H. next week. We go to Montreal tonight and then on to Boston, N.Y., Phila. and Baltimore - sailing Jan. 8th. I am sending Charles my Harvean Oration.

With ^{best} love to you both,

Ever yours,

Wm. Osler.
