

COCKFIELD RECTORY, SUDBURY, SUFFOLK.

July 29. 1887

Dear Mr Sharpe

I beg to offer the Museum a specimen of Lanius major (as a pair quite identical in plumage) killed in Suffolk; I believe near Beccles, but perhaps it will be safer to say nothing about the exact place Hoping that it may be acceptable, I remain

Yours very truly
Charles H. B. Stephenson
