My Dear Sir

I try to enclose you a few accounts which are now done, & will feel greatly obliged if you will hand them over send a word to collect them for me at your earliest convenience. That is promised on the other side. Pray state to Mr. Nanture that I will return it a favour if he will communicate the progress he has made in the collection of the accounts entrusted to him during your absence, & request of him to enquire of Jas. Miller & John Lindsay the way in which these accounts were arranged, when I was in Boston - as I find that I did not preserve a note of them for entry on my return. Has he collected the amount of Mr. Munroe's note? I now enclose it also.

I have not yet written me since your return - I mean of course at any length. How were you pleased with your visit? Has Scotland improved much since you saw it. Sit down write me and a letter as you can, & I shall lay it before my readers. Nothing could be more interesting.

As ever yours - presents my best respects to your good Lover & other friends & believe me

ever to remain

Yours sincerely

Wm. H. Knap
