

Maure Belfast.

6th Feb. 1854.

My dear Sir, I duly received your note
containing my account, &c. I have to crave your pardon my delay in sending a remittance. I have been unable to do so for me on two circumstances until lately: I hoped I have been in Charlott. Town two or three weeks ago & to have transmitted it, but was prevented by the storm.

I purpose to do next week or at the furthest the week following, when I shall transmit the amount of the account.

I am yours truly

Alex. McKay.
