My dear Lois
I have an idea that you may write me a Birthday letter and I am sorry that I will be unable to be in Toronto to get my letters on time. So if my answer is a day late, ~~please~~ you will understand the reason. I hope little Sybil is enjoying herself and not working too hard (which is what she would accuse me of doing). Is her big brudder being kind to her?

I have decided that it is far nicer to live in a small town. Everybody seems to be having a nice time here and there is no smoke or dirt and one can wear the same collar after noon as before. Some day (after our trip around the world) I would like to show you Guelfh and Brantford and Brockville and one or two other towns I consider really decent for a human being to live in, without being stifled by bad air or hurried by about 50 different kinds of noisy pests.

I'm afraid I'm a Socialist. In a place this size you know nearly every one by name and probably know who their father & brother and sister is too.

Everything is topsy turvy

I ran up to Stratford expecting to have a nice quiet time and they phoned me to go to Cleveland.

On arriving here in London
I find that tomorrow is Thanksgiving day & a public holiday in the States and so I have again changed my plans and intend to remain here tomorrow and go to Clevela
