Sunday. Feb. 5th / 11.

Dearest Edward.

I will now try to answer your letter of Jan. 30th -

Have you heard from Bernard yet? I have not! I think he is a "pyg". don't you? perhaps he is one as you suggest! but I don't see why he should be.

I can't tell you why you should not have been a preacher, as I have no particular reason, but I like you much better as an engineer.

I am glad you liked Ruth's letter, I thought it was very nice myself. I hope you did not throw it away.

You seem to think that I am going to have a bad time, with both our mothers, I think it would be rather fun if they did get their heads together & there were some pow-woos! besides I am not afraid of Mrs. W. any longer, she has been so nice to me lately, I love her better every time I see her. Do tell me visit her birthday some time this month? -

Have you heard from Prof. Durley yet? I am awfully anxious to know what he said about your design - I do hope it is a success, I would love you 3.

I have invented something.

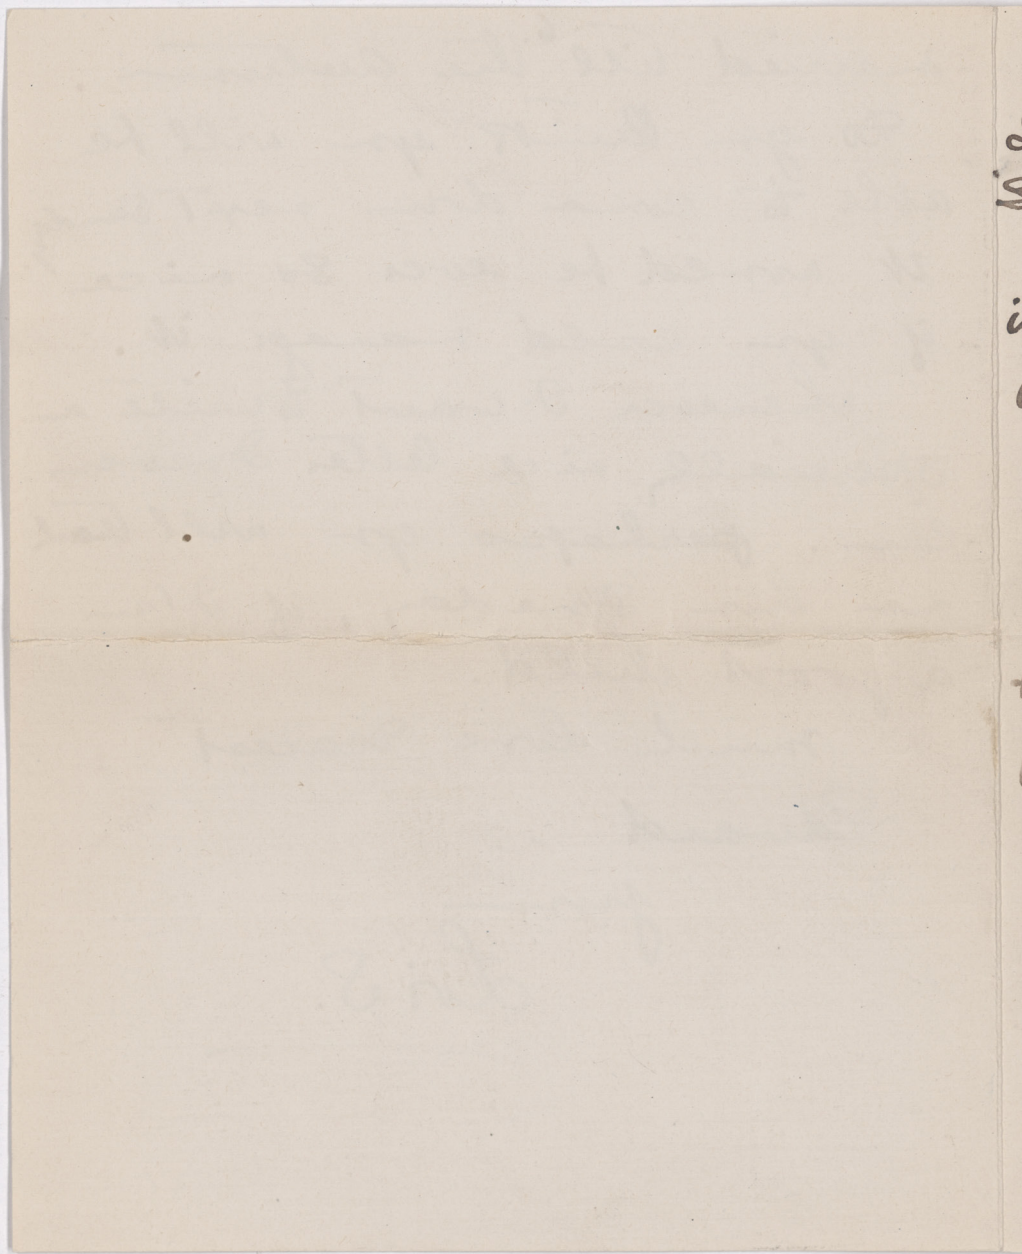

Edward dear I don't know when we will tell everybody, your mama says not till we can give out something definite. and I don't suppose that either of us know when that will be. I cannot get accustomed to the idea that I am really and truly engaged, it is a queer world -

I went into Foster Browns yesterday to look at sets of Dickens they had 2 very nice editions one had that india paper and illustrated. the paper was thicker than the ones we saw at Morgans. It was a very pretty and seat edition⁴; the set of seventeen volumes was $17.00 which ~~is~~ is a lot - and if you buy them separately they charge you $1.25, which is very nasty of them indeed - The other edition was very nice too - it had ordinary paper, with illustrations, and bound in dark green leather.

These you could buy separately the shorter stories were 90 cents, and the longer ones $1.25 - next time you come down you can look at them and see which you like either edition is very nice.

Clare has been at Point Claire staying with Olive for the last weeks

Con left for Detroit this morning I expect he will be away for several days.

Maddy tells me that Hugh intends to get married before you do! I told her that he would have to hurry quite a lot if he intended doing anything like that. Edward dear how long do you think he will have to wait - have you any idea? I would not mind waiting a bit if you were here, but when you are away it gets rather boring. I don't believe that Con will be

P.S.
Eva wants to know why you put a 'sharp' (#) before the numbers on my letters (it just means 'no. doesn't it?'). She says it annoys her. So she is going to write you a letter and put a ~~sharp~~ flat (b) before your "no."

I don't see why it should annoy her — do you?

married till⁶ the autumn.

Do you think you will be able to come down next Sunday? it would be ever so nice if you could manage it.

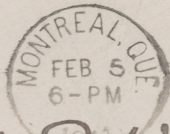

Whenever I want to write a specially nice letter I never can. perhaps you will teach me how Sunday, if I'm a good child.

much love dearest

Edward -
