

295 University.
March 28th / 11.

Dearest Edward.

I have not yet succeeded in getting myself some note paper, I have been sponging in on the family, but can't bright so you will have to have pad paper again —

I was so glad to get your nice long letter this morning and hear a little of what you are doing —

You are not a bit of an icicle, you silly child. do you mind being called child?

As to our correspondence, Ruth was only teasing, Clare entirely took my side and

Said she thought it was redict. always to be compelled to write once a day. But you know how some days you simply could not write a letter!

I agree with you, it is much better to write when the spirit moves - I love to hear from you often, but don't ever want you to write more than you feel like - even after we tell people -

I won't tell Ruth to write to you and tell you the way you should go - she would cry in the rest of her life if she thought she had give you <sup>3</sup> any pointers - She couldn't teach you anything <sup>anyway</sup>

So don't worry!!! - - -

It's awfully nice that Cobalt agrees with you, it must if you can eat 6 Sq. in of cheese, was it like the kind your father had? -

It would be splendid if you could go on a prospecting trip - you might find a good mine - ! - where would you go, this summer?

I'm going to tell you something rather amusing, but you must not tell & must not be shocked<sup>4.</sup> - We had heaps of old evening dresses and things of that style that you could not give to poor people. So I invited Mr. Sammy Pearson for Nthe Dane St to come and pay us a visit - He tried his best to few me, but I think I fewed him - I managed to get $22.50 - The family simply roared when I told them how much I had made.

It was such fun - I spread all the things out in the back drawing room - and he came in and said he would give me <sup>5</sup> so much for the lot. I said no, that I wanted a fixed price for each separate garment. and I had a note book & pencil, ~~and~~ ready to mark them down - then he said - "what would you think this was worth" -? I said "you better tell me what you would give me for it, as you know more about such things." but it was awfully funny! - He showed me a diamond ring that he had bought for somebody down the street, and had given $1.25 for it - Darnny gave me his picture - I will have to show it to you some time. You must promise not to tell anybody about my dealing with the Jews - though I know for a fact that hundreds of people here do the same thing -

Mother bought me some Table napkins, <sup>the other day</sup> I did not like them very much, so I went to change them - and had such a funny time. as I don't know any thing about the qualities of linen - you would have smiled if you could have seen me -

I don't think I have anything else to tell you about tonight.

Our letters are lovely, don't you think, you tell me about air compressors & drills, and I tell you about Jews & table linen!

I have been so absolutely restless <sup>lately</sup> it's terrible I can't settle to anything. It annoys me so to be like that, you waste so much time.

Heaps of love to you & Daisy
Love,

L. S.

P.S. I made a most charming little dirigible today. -  It's greatly delighted Will it was all perfect, except for a propeller which I tried to make, but could not work out exactly. -
