My dear Sir

Thinking that your stay in London might be made more agreeable by access to one chief scientific club — the Athenaeum — I proposed you in Committee yesterday for invitation as an honorary member & I have now the pleasure to enclose the letter of invitation.

The Athenaeum stands at the right hand corner of Pall Mall & Waterloo Place looking East. The entrance is in Waterloo Place. You will meet there most of your scientific acquaintances & hoping to have also often the pleasure of seeing you there

Believe me

Yours faithfully
S. Frankland.
