

Montreal Tuesday Morning
28 July 1871

Dear Dr

Unfortunately the Student filling the Pulpit of Knox Church on Sabbath evening, in reading the notice of the "Lecture to the Sab. School", instead of reading it as written by myself —

"Benjamin Dawson Esq", read it Dr Dawson presuming that to be the proper announcement.

It was read as written at the morning service, but a member of our church in the Witness establishment unfortunately inserted an advertisement in yesterday's issue with your name.

I have called at the Witness and the error will be corrected, and

^{J Brown}
^{21/11}
and if the Herald notices the Lecture tomorrow, the right name will be given.
I believe you will see this mistake has occurred unintentionally, and trust you will accept of this apology

I am

Dear Sir

Yours respectfully
J. Brown
Super^r of Lab School
