Dear Doctor Dawson

I can see no light in the propositions of this morning. They would no doubt be for the Society's ~~best~~ benefit but at an outlay of money and trouble on our part which I do not care to assume. I have therefore put the matter in definite shape in the inclosed letter and have only to ask the one thing that the name may die with our connection with it.

It might be easily continued of the same page-like ~~as the Annals~~ under the name of the Annals of the Natural History

Society and could then be managed to subserve the interests of the Society alone. We would give any information to help the new Journal along

Yours truly
Samuel S. Newson
