

Little Notes
July 14, 1846

There of course left
to us in particular the
great interest of public education. We see within
in the little details
of the State papers when you have no doubt seen
of the plan proposed to form the new State
and be carried out we
shall then be enabled
of the details of it.

The committee
of the State
I feel sure there had been efforts made to go to show that the act which has been taken would be prejudicial to the welfare of the State & the cause of education.

My dear Sir,

I beg to acknowledge with thanks your letter of July 4th. I am very anxious to find
that you do not appear to have before
your mind either the
circumstances under which
the power to appoint Commissioners was placed in the hands of the Govt
or the educational responsibility involved in
the exercise of that
power, and it would
be a waste of your time

Secularism & secular
these points in writing.

At the matter was
stands a man Miller
has been unceasing
unminded from a great work, division has
been done in our ranks,
and a heavy blow has
been inflicted on the

struggling cause of
protestant education
while instead of that
first rule of regard all Church governments
& Councils & choose

expects in appointments to special fields not perhaps the year of 1871 & 1872
appointment has been intending to the substance
perhaps of portions like
whole of the matter ^{but} and
of the ^{depth} ~~depth~~ of all be friends of education.

Our old companion
is the appointment of a man who that Council
and not merely about
is no better the thing
that who might have
been selected and who
for his name what
will accept as by Council
points in the thing