

I shall be deeply grateful for your help. It is no small thing to be the means of placing a friendless child in a good home & of making its life a happy and a Christian one. Its life is as valuable as our own.

Please address your reply to Guthrie House, London. Box E, 111.

I am,

Very faithfully yours,

Dear Friend,

I hope to arrive in London on about the 24th of May with seventy or eighty children, for whom I am anxious to provide Christian homes. I appeal to you, as one who knows something of our work, on behalf of my children. You can help me (a) by making our arrival known among Christian people (b) by asking your clergyman to announce our coming from his pulpit & (c) by forwarding me the names & addresses of any friends willing to receive children.

The ages of our children vary from four to fourteen. Only a few are of the latter age.
