CENTRAL PARK, (77th St. & 8th Ave.)

NEW YORK,

Whitfield

July 7th

1881.

Principal J. W. Dawson

Dear Sir

Your card of the 5th came to hand this a.m.

We should be pleased to have a nice slab of Phyllograptus although we have quite a coll. of the P. typus in the Hall coll. they are the partially weathered specimens originally collected by the Survey from St. Louis.
And none of them on large slabs.

You will see by the last no. of the Am. Jour. that the first instalment of the paper on Dictyophyton is published.

I was much disappointed on seeing it there. Prof. Dana wrote me that my article and your note would appear together in the August number as the June & July numbers were both full.

The Indiana specimen of the Uphamlaecina differs much in detail from U. Vanuxemi so I altered the title of your notes to correspond, and I have taken the liberty of attaching your name to it as a specific name, and shall illustrate the species before long

Yours truly

A. P. Sheffield.

an Orthoptera is Orthoptera.
I was named the Orthoptera as being it there, Prof. Jones wrote me that my notes and your note would appear together in the Journal number on the line of Prof. Jones were that full.
The Orthoptera specimens of the Orthoptera differs much in detail from Orthoptera as I observed the title of your notes to compare
and I have taken the liberty
shall illustrate the species here very

Yours truly
