

Columbus O Nov^r. 26th 81.

Prof J. W. Dawson.
Dear Sir.

M. Saxe authorized me to send you the specimen of what I consider ~~as~~ the young form of Trochophyllum. It is not very distinct but clear enough, on the reverse of the larger pinna, both fragmentary. There is still a better specimen with the pinnae evidently curved about like the part sketched herewith. I do not have it, it is at Pittston, in the cabinet of the owner and the sketch here is from memory and therefore not reliable.

Very respectfully yours
A. Benquey

Please to return the specimen to me at your convenience

Lesqueris
Naegeli

Tracheophyllon
Lign
is not verticillate
as he supposes
in his sp Linnæus. The
L. clavatum
may be smaller
cliff

see Rep. Dec
P 65

The species
do not but - also speaking of the
P. clavatum
of Wall