

British Association for the Advancement of Science,

22, ALBEMARLE STREET,

LONDON, W.

Oct. 7, 1886.

Sir,

The enclosed letter (of which I have made a copy, so that you need not hurry to return the original) was opened by our Secretaries, as it was evidently on Association business. If any of the other letters I have sent you should come before the Council, perhaps you will kindly let me have them in time for the meeting of the 5th of November.

Your corrected copy
of your address has safely reached me.

I am, Sir,

Yours obediently.

A. C. Stewardson.

Sir J. Wm. Dawson, Esq.

Department of Science
LONDON, W.
LITTLEFIELD STREET

Steward
Oct 18/86

Oct. 7. 1886

Mr. [unclear]
The enclosed letter [unclear]
I have made a copy, so that you need not hurry to return the original, in answer to your request, as it was [unclear]
in connection with [unclear] of the other letter [unclear] but you should come before the Council, perhaps, you will kindly let me have them in time for the meeting of the [unclear]

Your corrected copy
of your address has [unclear]
I thank you.

Yours truly,
W. Steward

W. Steward