My dear Sir William

I beg to thank you very sincerely for your kind note of this morning and for the trouble you have taken with reference to the announcement of my appointment
as Dean and Vice-Principal.
I am glad also to have the opportunity of thanking you, by letter, as I do now, for your personal action in the matter.

I felt it a little awkward to do so
by word of mouth -
Believe me

Yours very sincerely
Alexander Johnson
