Sir John Dawson

Dear Sir

We are now making preparations for the publication of a jubilee number of the Critic, of which we intend to issue 25,000 copies - Our aim is to make it one of the best literary productions ever produced in this part of the Dominion - The articles contributed being exclusively from natives or residents of the three lower provinces - Some of our leading writers have already promised us

Halifax, N. S., 188

Contributions of from one to two columns in length - our columns averaging from eleven to twelve hundred words - Would you kindly consent to write us a short paper for this number - sending us the M.S. as soon as convenient - before the first of April We desire to pay our contributors at the rate of $5.00 per page - an insignificant sum we are aware - but yet a step in the right direction Contributors may if they so desire take the equivalent in papers at the rate of fifty copies per page - Including the idea of a
