My Dear Sir William

I do not generally send you any of my R. S. C. papers, as you get the large volumes in which they lie entombed. But, as you make reference to my paper on "The Lost Atlantis" in your Brit. Ass. address, I send you a copy of it now.

Have you had any personal intercourse with Dr. Dallinger F. R. S. ? I saw him; and was favourably impressed with him at Montreal. I should be glad to know what scientific work he has done. He seemed to devote himself to Physiology.

If you can tell me anything about him I shall feel obliged.

I had a desperate time
of it here for three weeks, with a University Federation Bill going through our Witenagemot; and nearly all the wise men about as ignorant of the matter left to their decision as an assembly of Red

Stems in their Japen!

Lobbying is detestable work; and I begin to find late hours tell hard on me;
especially in the matter of sleep thereafter.

However I got matters pretty much as I wished, considering the inevitable compromise involved.

Remember most kindly to Lady Dawson. Sybil is well; and would no doubt join me in kindest greetings to her and you; but I write in haste.

Yours faithfully

— Dan. Wilcox

Wilm
