LONDON, 15 PICCADILLY, W. 13 May 1887

Sir Jm. Dawson

Sir William, I have your letter of the 2^d inst. & thank you for your remittance of £2.

After the misunderstanding (!) on all sides I must accept whatever you propose & I am therefore satisfied with what you have done, I only regret there has been so much trouble in the matter especially to yourself—who is so much occupied & took this matter in hand as a favor.

I am sorry to hear of Mr Robb's death.

Hoping that I shall continue to be of service to you I remain Sir William,

Your obedient servant

Bernard Quaritch
