

2 April 1889

My dear Sir Wm

As recommended by you, Mr Brackemidge had better call the meeting for Friday next,
I will arrange with the Bank officers for the room as usual.

I am glad you did not take the trouble to come here yourself.

I forgot to congratulate & thank you last evening for the beautiful way in which, to use a vulgar phrase, you sat upon our enthusiastic professor in your short address.

Yours Sincerely
John W. Rettonson
