

155 Cypress St Brooklyn N.Y.
April 2nd 1889

Sir J. W. Dawson
Principal McGill University

Sir . I am indebted to you for much pleasant reading, as well as instruction from your published work - so much so, that I feel encouraged to look to you for further light, if not taking too great a liberty, for an entire stranger -

I would by leave to say, that in protesting myself against the modern craze for Evolution in creation, from man to man, I have had occasion to refer to your published views on the subject; and I wish to take the liberty of asking you - whether your views as to the evolution of species, as shown in Chapter 14th of your "History of the Earth and Man"; has undergone any change since that book was published - and if so, where will I find the subject treated in the manner in which you now view it? -

With many apologies for this intrusion -

I am very respectfully

Yours Obedient Servant

Julius W. Ceclauer
Past Pres. Am. Soc. Civil Engineers

122 Curran St. Philadelphia
April 2 - 1889

Dr. W. Brewster
Principles of the University

Dear Sir, I am indebted to you for much valuable teaching, as well as instruction from your published work - so much so, that I feel it necessary to look to you for further light of our subject, by an entire change - I have been to you to get that is justifying my opinion of the cause for evolution in certain forms has been, has been necessary to refer to your published work on the subject, and I wish to take the liberty of asking you - whether your views as to the evolution species, as shown in Chapter 14th of your History of the Earth and Man, has undergone any change since that work

was published - and if so, where will I find the subject treated in the volume - in which you now view it?

W. H. Henshaw
Brewster

With many thanks for this volume -
I am very respectfully
Yours obediently
Frederic M. Beckman
Post Post Office, Phila. Pa.