

The North American Review,

3 East Fourteenth Street, New York.

May 15 / 89.

My dear Sir :-

When I wrote to you I had it in mind to suggest two subjects, though, perhaps, I mentioned only one. The first led to an article popularizing the results of your more recent researches in the direction of "modern Sovietes" science in Bible lands." We could wait several months for that. The second is more urgent. We intend to publish in the July 4^o a "Symposium" of college presidents discussing the question How far should a University control its Students? and I meant to ask you for a contribution to this also.

Indeed the omission of so im-

But an educator would be so conspicuous that I will venture to importune for an article on this subject even though you are obliged to limit it to 1200 or 1500 words. The other, as I say, will be welcome when you have more leisure for its preparation.

Trusting that I am not imposing too much on your kindness, I am, my dear Sir,

Faithfully Yours,

William W. Ridding.

To Sir J. W. Dawson,

President McGill University