My dear Sir William

Allow me to offer you my heartiest congratulations on the large addition to the endowment of McGill University; and the important additions so well provided for.

I presume this is the fruit of your late struggle with Laval and the exclusive narrowness of the French Roman Catholic element. If so it is one of the encouraging instances

of good educed from seeming evil.

My correspondence
is at present so very exacting; that I am in some doubt whether I replied to a very kind letter of yours,
with promise of gift of duplicates; and other practical witnesses of sympathy; or whether
I only purposed it.
I find if I leave a letter unanswered on the day of its receipt it is very difficult to overtake it afterwards.

Be assured, however,
that your letter was thoroughly appreciated.

Adieu a last time
now. Yours faithfully
Darius Wilson
