Dear Sir:

Your letter of June 22 is received. I have not yet, however, found the Mss. in question, although it is possibly mixed with the pile of papers which I have not yet had time to look over. I have just returned from a three weeks visit in the east and the accumulation of mail is very great. I have no doubt that anything which you would send would be entirely suitable for our purposes. I will write you again in regard to the matter as soon as I find the manuscript. Since dictating the above I understand that some manuscript for the Johnson Encyclopaedia was received during my absence and forwarded to my colleague Dr. Gilbert at Monterey. Doubtless your paper is in this.

Very truly yours,

David T. Jordan
