My dear Sir William,

I have your note of D. Macaulay, and have conferred with our Editors respecting its contents. They seem on the whole, to be doubtful whether a series of papers of the kind proposed would be successful, either in separate publications or in the Sunday at Home.
The number of such sketches already existing is very great. But we could reach only from a satisfactory conclusion only by seeing the papers, - or a few of them, which would quite suffice. If therefore you could forward me of the MSS. we should be exceedingly glad to consider them, and to communicate our views.

Behave me & remain, with very good wish

Faithfully yours

Saml G. Green
