REGULATIONS OF THE COURSE.

The whole course of study requires four years; one year in each of the four classes into which the students are divided.

The entrance, standing, and graduation of every student are determined by examinations at the times and upon the conditions here specified.

ENTRANCE EXAMINATIONS.

Examinations for admission will be both oral and written. The first examination will commence on Friday, June 14th, at 11 A. M., and will continue through the forenoon of Saturday. The second will commence on Tuesday, Sept. 10th, at 11 A. M., and continue through the forenoon of Wednesday. Attendance is required at the beginning of the examination.

Examinations at other times than those specified are very inconvenient, and often impracticable, and applicants for admission at other than the regular days are required to pay $10 into the treasury.

SUBJECTS.

Candidates for admission to the Freshman Class are examined in the following books and subjects:

ENGLISH.—English Grammar; Orthography; Punctuation;
Short and Simple English Composition; Geography, Ancient and Modern.

The attention of Preparatory Schools is called to the need of a more thorough study of elementary English.

LATIN.—Latin Grammar including Prosody; Cæsar (five books of the Commentaries;) Sallust (Catiline or Jugurtha;) Virgil (six books of Æneid;) Cicero's Select Orations (six;) Arnold's Latin Prose Composition (twelve chapters.)

GREEK.—Greek Grammar including Prosody; Goodwin's Greek Reader, 111 pages, (or Xenophon, three books of the Anabasis;)—Homer (the first two books of the Iliad, except the catalogue of the ships;) Arnold's Greek Prose (thirty exercises, with special reference to writing with the accents.) Crosby's, Goodwin's and Hadley's Grammars are recommended.

The Continental pronunciation of the vowels and diphthongs in both Latin and Greek is preferred.

MATHEMATICS.—Arithmetic (including the Metric System;) Algebra (through Quadratic Equations of one unknown quantity.) Geometry (first book of Euclid.)

Equivalents will be received in place of the books named above; but it is recommended that the candidates be prepared for examination on the requirements above specified.

Candidates for admission to any class higher than the Freshman are examined in the previous studies of the Class which they wish to enter, as published in the latest annual Catalogue, or their equivalents. Applicants for admission to the Sophomore Class are also examined in the Preparatory Studies.

CONDITIONS.

No person is admitted to the College as a candidate for the Degree of Bachelor of Arts after the beginning of the First Term of the Senior Year.

All candidates for admission to any Class must bring with them testimonials of moral character; and if the candidate has been a member of another College or University, he must produce a certificate from the President or Faculty that he is free from censure in that institution.

No candidate is admitted into the College without an examination and a vote of the Faculty.

On the second day of the First Term, Thursday at 9 o'clock, A. M., the entering students meet in the College Chapel for the registration of their names and their subscription to the following pledge, required by the resolutions of the Board of Trustees passed unanimously at their meeting on the 28th and 29th of June, 1855 :

We, the undersigned, do individually for ourselves promise, without any mental reservation, that we will have no connection whatever with any secret society, nor be present at the meetings of any secret society in this or any other College so long as we are members of the College of New Jersey ; it being understood that this promise has no reference to the American Whig and Clisosophic Societies. We also declare that we regard ourselves bound to keep this promise, and on no account whatever to violate it.

SESSIONAL EXAMINATIONS.

At the end of each Session or Term each of the four classes is ordinarily examined in the studies of that Term.

The results of a sessional examination are combined with those of the recitations, attendance, and conduct of the student during the Term, and decide the relative standing or grade of the student for that Term.

In computing the grades of a Class, each study is estimated relatively to the others, according to the number of hours which it occupies in the Weekly Schedule of Lectures and Recitations.

A report of the standing of each student is made at the close of the Term to his parent or guardian by the Registrar of the College.

Private examinations are not allowed, except in extreme cases, and by special permission of the Faculty.

Absence from an examination, except for reasons of absolute necessity, will be regarded as a serious delinquency, and a subsequent examination will not be granted except by a vote of the Faculty.

Should a student fail to pass the examination in any of his studies, his name is not entered on the class roll at the beginning of the next Term until he has been examined in that study.

On the second day of the next Term, Thursday, at 10 o'clock, A. M., all delinquent or unexamined students are required to meet in the chapel prepared for an immediate examination in the studies which they have omitted.

ANNUAL EXAMINATIONS.

At the close of the College year each of the four Classes is publicly examined in all its studies of that year.

The Annual Examinations are conducted both orally and in writing.

The results of the Annual Examinations are combined with those of the previous Sessional Examinations to determine the average grade of the student for the year.

Should the average grade of a student prove him unqualified to go forward with advantage in his Class, his name is stricken from the roll and he cannot be admitted to re-examination at the beginning of next Term, except by a vote of the Faculty.

BIENNIAL EXAMINATIONS.

At the close of the second year of the course, the Annual Examination of the Sophomore Class includes the studies of the Sophomore year, together with such studies of the Freshman year as may be prescribed in the several Departments.

Members of the Sophomore Class, found deficient in any study at this examination, are conditioned and re-examined in that study before they are allowed to proceed to the Elective Courses of the Junior year.

ELECTIVE COURSES.

For the last two years of the course students have an opportunity of selecting to a certain extent the studies which they will pursue. These elective studies, chosen at the beginning of the college year and for the entire year, will, when chosen, be equally obligatory with the required studies.

On the second day of the First Term, at 12 o'clock, the members of the Junior and Senior Classes meet in the Chapel to declare in writing their choice of elective studies and to be enrolled in the several Departments.

In the Junior year students must take two of the following four electives (see page 24): Latin, Greek, Mathematics, French and German. In the Senior year they must take four of the following eleven electives (see page 25): Latin, Greek, Mathematics, Astronomy, Physics, History, Chemistry, History of Philosophy, French and German, Political Science, Museum Work.

Next year (1878-9) there will be classes in Anglo Saxon and Early English.

POST GRADUATE COURSES.

Post Graduate Courses are at present in operation and will be more fully organized for next year. They will embrace instruction in (1) Philology, (2) Philosophy, (3) Science.

FINAL EXAMINATIONS.

BACHELOR'S DEGREE.

At the close of the whole course of study the members of the Senior Class are publicly examined for admission to the Degree of Bachelor of Arts on the studies of the Senior year.

No student will be recommended to the Trustees for a Degree who fails to pass a satisfactory final Examination. A student whose grade at his final Examination is below 50 in any Department will forfeit the title to a Degree, and it can only be restored by express vote of the Faculty upon sufficient reasons given. These rules shall not be rendered inoperative by the length of time a student has been a member of College.

The Final Grade of a student is the average of all the Annual grades received by the student during his College course.

Students whose Final Grade is above 50 are ordinarily recommended by the Faculty for the Degree of Bachelor of Arts, and if the recommendation is approved by the Trustees, they receive Diplomas signed by the President and the Trustees.

Commencement Orations, indicative of general or special excellence, are awarded by the Faculty to such students as are deemed worthy of distinction. The Latin Salutatory is ordinarily awarded to the student who stands first in the Class; and the English Salutatory to the student who stands second. The Valedictory is awarded with special regard to the qualifications of the student as a Valedictorian, as well as on the ground of Scholarship. Philosophical, Classical, Mathematical, Physical, Metaphysical, Ethical, Historical, Literary, Belles Lettres, French, and German Orations are awarded to students who are eminent respectively in the corresponding Departments.

In awarding all literary honors and distinctions regard is had by the Faculty to the moral conduct of the candidates.

MASTER'S DEGREE.

The Degree of Master of Arts is conferred in course on every Bachelor of Arts of three years' standing, who, in the interval, shall have sustained a good moral character and pursued professional or other studies, and who shall make application for the Degree by letter, to the Clerk of the Faculty, at least one week previous to the Annual Commencement.

A member of the Class receiving the Master's Degree in course delivers, on Commencement Day, the Master's Oration. The appointment is made by the Faculty.

ANNUAL PRIZES AND FELLOWSHIPS.

Besides the Degrees and Honors conferred in the regular course, Prizes, Scholarships, and Fellowships are offered as special incentives to study, in the Classes or Departments with which they are connected.

Only matriculated students, who are candidates for a Degree, are admitted to the competition for Prizes, Scholarships, and Fellowships, and none are admitted to such competition who have failed to pass satisfactorily their last preceding Examination in any of the Departments.

No member of any Class is allowed to compete for more than one of the Scholarships or Fellowships offered to that Class.

The names of the Prizemen, Scholars, and Fellows of each year are included in the Honor List for the year.

PRIZES AND SCHOLARSHIPS.

THE JUNIOR ORATOR MEDALS.

Four gold medals, or books of equal value, will be awarded by a Committee appointed by the Board of Trustees, to the four successful competitors in an Oratorical Contest on the evening before Commencement. The competition will be between eight members of the Junior Class—four from the Cliosophic and four from the American Whig Societies—selected by Committees appointed by the Societies respectively, from their own members in the Faculty.

THE MACLEAN PRIZE.

The Maclean Prize, consisting of the sum of $100, will be given to that one of the Orators chosen by the Literary Societies from the Junior Class who shall on the night before Commencement pronounce the best English Oration.

Lynde, Esq., will be awarded by a Committee appointed by the Faculty, to the three successful competitors in a Debate on the Monday evening preceding Commencement. The competition will be between six members of the Senior Class—representatives of the Literary Societies—selected by Committees appointed by the Societies respectively, from their own members in the Faculty.

THE GEORGE POTTS BIBLE PRIZES.

The yearly interest of $1,000, expended in the purchase of two copies of Matthew Henry's Commentary on the Bible, will be presented to the two best Biblical scholars of the Senior Class at the end of their College course.

THE FRESHMAN FIRST HONOR PRIZE.

A prize of $200 will be given to that member of the Freshman Class, who having entered said class at the beginning of the College year shall, at the end of such year, be reported to the Trustees by the Faculty to have attained the highest average grade in Scholarship. No student who has been suspended from College, or who has been put upon his last probation, shall be eligible to this Prize, and it is not to be given to the student taking the Stinnecke Scholarship.

Application for admission to these Scholarships, as they become vacant, should be made to Professor Atwater.

The College also possesses a fund given for the purpose of aiding indigent candidates for the ministry of the Presbyterian Church, from which they can receive at least thirty dollars a year each.

SOCIETIES, MUSEUMS AND APPARATUS.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

THE PHILOSOPHIC and AMERICAN WHIG SOCIETIES are conducted by the undergraduates, but also include in their organization graduates and officers of the College. They possess valuable Libraries and Reading Rooms, exclusively for the use of their respective members, and engage in Literary exercises, including a Public Debate and a competition in Oratory by representatives of the two Societies, on the evenings preceding the Annual Commencement. These Societies are considered a part of the educational appliances of the College, and all Academic students are advised to join them.

THE NASSAU SCIENTIFIC SOCIETY.

THE NASSAU SCIENTIFIC SOCIETY was formed shortly after the opening of the School of Science, and is especially designed to give Society advantages to the students pursuing a Scientific course. Its exercises are Literary as well as Scientific, and various inducements are offered during the course to stimulate competition. The Society possesses a Reading Room containing newspapers and periodicals, and has commenced the collection of a Library. All undergraduates of the School of Science are considered eligible to membership in this Society, and all students entering are advised to join.

THE PHILADELPHIAN SOCIETY.

THE PHILADELPHIAN SOCIETY OF NASSAU HALL is a religious Society composed of undergraduates united by a covenant of mutual religious aid and sympathy. Devotional meetings are held stately under its direction, and a Reading Room containing religious books and periodicals is connected with its Hall.

MUSEUMS.

THE E. M. MUSEUM OF GEOLOGY AND ARCHÆOLOGY, described in the last catalogue, has received, during the past year, important additions. The Geological Department has been enriched by over five hundred species of fossil plants of the coal period, especially from the Western coal fields, and a number from the cretaceous and tertiary beds of Colorado and Wyoming; a considerable collection of fossil fishes; an extensive array of fossil tracks from the Connecticut sandstone, and a series of mammalian remains from Oregon. A collection, most welcome on account of its origin, as well as very valuable, composed of fossil plants from Colorado, and of vertebrates from the Bad Lands of Wyoming, the result of the untiring efforts of the palæontologists of the Scientific Expedition of Princeton College, will adorn the shelves of the Museum. A fragment of the basaltic column of the Giant's Causeway, Ireland, has been contributed by Mr. Charles Withington, of the Class of '68. Another important restoration by Dr. B. Waterhouse Hawkins, has been successfully carried out. The Gigantic Turtle of the Himalaya, whose carapace alone stood on the central platform, has been restored from a study of the bones in the British Museum. The series of geological tableaux by Dr. Hawkins, has been finished, numbering 17 pictures, representing a complete history of Creation.

In the Archæological department, the copies by Dr. Geo. Matile, of original specimens of the Poinsett Collection of Mexican and Peruvian Antiquities, have been finished, numbering nearly six hundred models and twelve hundred specimens. The relics of the Swiss lake-dwellings have received considerable additions, and similar collections of antiquities from the mounds of Michigan, Wisconsin and Lake Superior, have been acquired. Mr. Wm. Allen Butler, Jr., has contributed a complete skull of an Indian, Chief of the Flatheads, and Mrs. C. H. Lord a full suit and weapons of the Indians of Arizona, together with vases and implements of the same. A series of large models of great beauty and accuracy has been purchased from the U. S. Geological Survey of Dr. Hayden.

THE MUSEUM OF NATURAL HISTORY in the School of Science Building has been arranged, and contains the following collections:

Skeletons of Vertebrate animals from various parts of the world, representing the principal types for the study of Vertebrate Osteology, including a valuable series of skulls of North American Vertebrates received from the Smithsonian Institution.

A collection of the Birds of New Jersey, mounted. A collection of North American Birds in skins, partly the gift of the Smithsonian Institution.

A collection of Articulate forms, alcoholic and dried. Land Mollusca, of Madeira, a fine collection, the work and gift of Rev. R. B. Watson, of Edinburgh.

Collections of Marine and Fresh-water Shells, presented by Mrs. R. L. Stuart, of New York, and Admiral Emmons, of Princeton.

Through the liberality of friends of the College, the Curator has been enabled to make special expeditions to various parts of the country for the collection of specimens, notably to Florida for Birds, and to the islands off the coast of New Jersey for marine forms, obtained by dredging.

APPARATUS.

Valuable additions have been made during the past year in the DEPARTMENT OF GENERAL AND APPLIED CHEMISTRY. Besides purchases made in this country and Europe, and from the exhibits of the Centennial Exhibition, numerous gifts have been received. Among these are a set of Chemical Pigments from Mr. John Lucas, of Philadelphia; Minerals and Chemicals of Nevada, from Mr. H. R. Whitehill; Thermostat Appliance from the Automatic Signal Telegraph Company of New York; about 40 specimens of La Bastie Glass, from the works at South Brooklyn, N. Y.; a complete and beautiful set of Chemicals with case, from Messrs. Powers & Weightman, of Philadelphia.

In the DEPARTMENT OF NATURAL HISTORY additions have been made during the past year by models and apparatus for the study of Zoology, Botany and Entomology; by specimens of plants and animals collected in Colorado by the Princeton Scientific Expedition, and in New Jersey, Long Island and Ohio, by Professor Macloskie; by collections of American plants and seaweeds obtained by purchase, and by cases of Japanese plants and animals, which, after being exhibited at the Centennial, were presented by the Japanese Government to the College.

An OBSERVATORY for use in teaching Practical Astronomy, has been erected within the past few months, and well furnished with an equipment which, for the special purpose in view, is believed to be unrivalled by that of any similar establishment.

The Equatorial (by Clark,) has an aperture of $9\frac{1}{2}$ inches, and is provided with all necessary spectroscopic and other accessories. There are also a 9-inch silvered-glass reflector, a 6-inch comet-seeker, and several smaller telescopes. There are three meridian instruments in separate rooms, a 4-inch meridian circle (not yet finished,) a so-called "broken transit" of $2\frac{3}{4}$ inches aperture, and a small portable transit. The Aycrigg transit of 3 inches aperture is mounted in the Prime-Vertical. The Chronograph has three independent cylinders, and the time is distributed to all the rooms by subsidiary clocks electrically connected with the standard. There is a sufficient supply of sextants, chronometers and other minor instruments for field observations, and a working library, valuable and reasonably complete.

This institution, endowed by Mr. John C. Green, is a department of the College of New Jersey. It is established for the purpose of giving a thorough training in General Science and Art, together with a liberal education in certain Academic studies. Provision is also made for the special pursuit of certain studies of the general course and of the professional courses of Civil Engineering and Architecture.

The students in this school are regularly engaged in the laboratory, drawing room, museum and field, and make excursions to different points of interest.

For graduates and advanced students, and those desiring to pursue special branches, every facility will be supplied for study and research.

Two courses in General Science are provided. The one is a course of four years, to be pursued by candidates for the Degree of Bachelor of Science (B. S.); the other is a course in special departments of Science, to be pursued by students who have received the degree of Bachelor of Arts, or of Science, and are candidates for the Degree of Master of Science (M. S.)

To those who shall pursue a course of diligent study and original research for two or more years after obtaining the Bachelor's degree, and shall exhibit their attainments by passing an examination and by producing a Thesis based upon such original research, the Trustees may grant the Degree of Doctor of Science.

Before receiving his Degree, every student must present an acceptable Thesis or Essay to the Faculty.

MASTER OF SCIENCE.

Candidates for this degree must acquire a satisfactory knowledge of such of the studies named below as they may not have previously pursued, and will be required to choose certain branches of Science, in which they must show satisfactory proficiency by Dissertations and Examination. The time required will be not less than one year, and the studies as follows:—Biology. Mathematics. Practical Astronomy. Applied Chemistry. Qualitative Analysis. Quantitative Analysis. Physics. Mineralogy. Drawing. Modern Languages (one or more). Dissertations on Scientific subjects.

ELECTIVE STUDIES.

At the beginning of the Junior year students desiring to devote to certain branches more time than is allotted to them in the general course may elect one of four courses providing special instruction in :—Mathematics and Mechanics ; Biology and Geology ; Chemistry and Mineralogy ; Select courses in Physics (this course begins with the Senior year). The choice must be fixed for the remainder of the course and immediately at the beginning of the first term. The extra time devoted to one branch will be taken from that allotted to other scientific studies. Students pursuing such elective courses will remain candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Science, and will be required to produce a satisfactory Thesis on some subject assigned by the Professors in charge, before receiving their Degree.

COURSE IN CHEMISTRY AND MINERALOGY.

This elective course will include additional work during the Junior year in QUALITATIVE ANALYSIS, including Blowpipe Analysis.

QUANTITATIVE ANALYSIS, Inorganic.

MINERALOGY, including the optical study of minerals and microscopical examinations of rocks.

During the Senior year in QUANTITATIVE ANALYSIS, Inorganic and Organic.

VOLUMETRIC ANALYSIS.

ASSAYING, with lectures on the Minerals constituting Ores.

It is designed to furnish a thorough course in Analytical Chemistry, but students preparing for the study of Medicine may pursue, in place of much of the Systematic Analysis, studies similar to those of the Special Course.

CIVIL ENGINEER.

This department of the School of Science, endowed by Mr. John C. Green, is designed to furnish its graduates with complete preparation for entering the profession of Civil Engineering.

Its equipment consisting of instruments and models is, as far as completed, of the best quality, and a suite of rooms in the new wing of the School of Science building, comprising Lecture, Drawing and Recitation Rooms, together with a Museum of Construction, is to be set apart for the use of this department.

As shown in the following scheme of study, this course diverges from that in General Science from the beginning. It is important, therefore, that applications for admission to the department of Civil Engineering be made immediately after matriculation; otherwise, the applicant, if admitted, may find it difficult to make up the practical work engaged in by his class previous to his admission.

The course of study for this degree will occupy four years, as follows :

FRESHMAN YEAR.

Every candidate for this degree will be required to prepare and submit to the approval of the Professor in charge of the department a design for, or a review of, some special machine, structure, or process as a graduating Thesis before he can receive his degree.

ARCHITECTURE.

This course is now open to candidates for the degree of Bachelor of Architecture and to others desirous of taking partial courses; the line of study which will be pursued for the four years of the Course being, with perhaps slight modification, as follows:

A Post-graduate division is provided for those who desire to pursue their studies for more than the four years the course, and for any persons sufficiently advanced to join such a class—and students who may desire to take the advanced course, may enter upon their studies as Juniors in the Class of Architecture by proving by examination that they can keep up with the line of study as laid down. Graduates of other colleges may enter upon the same footing as those of the College of New Jersey.

SPECIAL STUDENTS.

For graduates or others who desire to devote especial attention to any of the scientific studies of the School, arrangements can be made with the Professors of those branches, if the Professor in charge shall, after due investigation, decide that the applicants can pursue such studies with advantage. Every facility will be offered for their advancement in the studies selected, with the personal supervision of the Professors and full access to the collections, etc.; but it must be distinctly understood that this opportunity is intended only for those who desire to attain proficiency in special branches, and not for students who have failed to keep up with the regular classes. Special students will be required to give evidence of satisfactory progress in their studies. To those passing successful examinations in the branches selected, certificates of proficiency will be given. The branches open to special students include:—Geology; Mineralogy; Biology; Physics; Analytical and Applied Chemistry; Assaying; Topography.

A course of two to four months, according to the previous preparation of the student, is provided for post-graduates and special students intending to study medicine. It includes a selected course in Qualitative Analysis, Physiological Chemistry, Disinfectants, Analysis of Potable Waters, etc., and consists mainly of laboratory work and microscopical investigations.

EXPENSES.

The Tuition Fee for all the courses for regular degrees is $120 per annum, to which will be added Room Rent, Fuel, etc., the same as in the Academic Department (See page 46). For the special courses in Analytical Chemistry the fee is at the rate of $120 per annum. For other special courses arrangements will be made with the Professors in charge.

Every student will be required to make a deposit to pay for materials consumed and apparatus injured or destroyed.

At the end of the year any excess in his favor will be returned to him. The deposits will be for Seniors, $30; Juniors, $25; Sophomores, $20; Freshmen, $15. Seniors and Juniors in the course in Civil Engineering will deposit only $20.

TERMS AND VACATIONS.

These are the same as in the Academic Department. There are three terms, as follows:—First term, September 12th to December 19th, 1877. Second term, January 2d to April 10th, 1878. Third term, April 17th to June 20th, 1878, the day of the Annual Commencement.

BUILDINGS, APPARATUS, AND COLLECTIONS.

The School of Science Building, erected in 1873 for the especial use of the Scientific Department, has been enlarged so that its working capacity is doubled. It contains large and commodious Lecture and Recitation rooms for each department of study, with Chemical, Physical, Mineralogical, Assay and Biological Laboratories, Museums, Drawing and Photographic Rooms, besides the private rooms of the Professors. The Laboratories are supplied with all the apparatus requisite for the study of the highest branches of Science. The Museums comprise full collections for the study of Geology, Mineralogy, Biology and Chemistry. The facilities for instruction in Biology have been greatly increased during the past year by the additions to the Museum. Valuable collections of minerals were made by the Scientific Expedition to the West last summer.

General Review of Studies.

On Monday morning, throughout the year, the classes recite from the New Testament in Greek. The Latin translation of Beza is used by those who are not sufficiently advanced in Greek.

Every two weeks there is held an exercise consisting alternately of declamations and written translations from Latin and Greek authors, or exercises in dictation.

A Debating Society, which all the students are expected to join, meets every week under the supervision of one or more of the Instructors.

This course of study accommodates applicants for admission to The John C. Green School of Science, and it aims, as well, to further the general education of any young man, though he may not intend to enter upon a course of collegiate study, in either of its great departments—Classical and Scientific.

TERMS OF ADMISSION.

Satisfactory evidence of the applicant's good moral character must be presented in writing; a testimonial from the clergyman of the family from which he comes will be required.

If previously at any boarding school, he must bring a certificate of honorable dismissal.

To enter the Junior Class, the applicant must be able to spell with reasonable correctness; to write legibly and easily; to read fluently both script and print. He must be able to pass an examination in the definitions of Geography; in the more general relations of the Political Geography of the United States; in Arithmetic to common fractions; and in English Grammar to the extent of distinguishing the plainer parts of speech.

To enter a higher class, he must pass an examination in the studies already pursued by the class, or in a fair equivalent.

ARTICLES REQUIRED.

Every student must be furnished with an umbrella, an overcoat, overshoes, and slippers; with six towels and a bag for soiled clothes; as also with a colored blanket for any unusual delicacy, or exposure, in the cold of winter.

TERMS OF ADMISSION.

Every person applying for admission into the Seminary, must produce satisfactory written testimonials that he possesses good natural talents, and is of a prudent and discreet deportment; that he is in full communion with some regular church; and that he has passed through a regular course of academic study; or, wanting this, he must submit himself to an examination in regard to the branches of literature usually taught in such a course.

When a student has been received under the care of a Presbytery, and has passed his examination on the studies usually pursued in College with approbation, a certificate from the Presbytery declaring this fact is received as sufficient to answer every requisition in regard to testimonials.

When a student who has been connected with any Theological Seminary seeks admission into this, he must produce testimonials of his good standing, and regular dismission, before he can be received.

A knowledge of Hebrew is not essential to students entering the Junior Class, inasmuch as the rudiments of this language form part of the regular course of instruction given in the first year. But a previous acquaintance with at least the written character would be of great service to beginners.

COURSE OF STUDY.

First Year.

Old Testament Literature: General Introduction; Hebrew (Green's Grammar and Chrestomathy). New Testament Literature: General Introduction; Special Introduction to the Gospels. Sacred Geography and Antiquities. Biblical History. Exegetical Theology (selected Epistles of Paul). Didactic Theology (begun). Homiletics; Extemporaneous Speaking.

Second Year.

The Middle Class has three weekly exercises in Church History; three in Didactic Theology; and two in each of the other departments.

The Senior Class has three weekly exercises in Didactic Theology, and two in each of the other departments.

Instruction in the Seminary is mostly given by lectures, though appropriate text-books, or works suited for collateral reading, are recommended in each department.

The Several Departments of Instruction.

In order to convey a clearer idea of what is actually taught in the Seminary, the following more explicit statements are made respecting the instructions here given.

Introduction to the Scriptures.

General Introduction to the Old and the New Testament embraces the subjects of the Canon, the Original Languages of Scripture, Ancient Manuscripts and Versions, Sacred Criticism, and the History and Principles of Scripture Interpretation.

Special Introduction embraces an account of each book severally, its authorship, integrity, design, and structure, together with a general statement of its contents, and a more particular examination of the most interesting and important questions relating to its criticism and interpretation. The course is intended to include at least a general survey of every book in the Bible.

Hebrew.

Hebrew is taught throughout the course. But the grammatical study of the language as such is confined mainly to the first year, in which a larger portion of time is devoted to it than to any other single branch. The Junior Class is practised not simply in translation and parsing, but in the derivation of words, the comparison of synonyms, the relations of kindred roots and Indo-European analogies, and in converting English into Hebrew. A beginning is also made the first year in the application of the knowledge of the language to the work of exposition, which is carried out more fully in the subsequent years of the course.

The Old Testament.

A general and comprehensive survey is presented of the various books of the Old Testament, in their individual plan and contents, and in their relations to one another, and to the general scheme of which they form a part. And the most important questions in criticism and exegesis that arise in each are considered, with a special reference to the gradual unfolding of revealed truth, the preparation for the coming of Christ, and the fuller disclosures of the New Testament. Particular attention is paid to the interpretation of typical facts and institutions, and to tracing the progressive scheme of prophecy. The Middle Class is also engaged in the more detailed study of the book of Psalms, and the Senior Class in that of Isaiah.

The New Testament.

In the study of the New Testament an acquaintance with ordinary Greek is assumed; but careful attention is paid to the peculiarities of the Hellenistic dialect, particularly as employed by the New Testament writers. The Life of Christ is exhibited in its several periods, with a careful analysis of the different gospels, their mutual relations, their individual characteristics, and the harmony of their respective narratives. The Acts of the Apostles are studied both exegetically and topically, with prominent reference to the life and labors of the Apostle Paul, and the early planting of the Christian Church. Special Introductions to the various Epistles are inserted in their proper chronological place.

Theology.

The basis of the course of Systematic Theology is laid in the Junior year, by the instruction given in Exegetical Theology, the aim of which is to develop, by a direct exposition of his writings, the doctrines taught by the Apostle Paul. Systematic Theology is begun in the Junior year, and continued in the Middle and Senior years. The doctrines of Theology are presented didactically, historically, and polemically. The order of topics pursued is: The nature, forms, and sources of Theology; the being of God; His nature and attributes; the Trinity; the divinity of Christ; the Holy Spirit; the decrees of God; creation; providence; miracles; the origin, nature, and primitive state of man; the covenant with Adam; the fall; sin; imputation; original sin; inability; the covenant of grace; the person of Christ; His offices; the nature, necessity, perfection, and extent of the atonement; His kingdom; His humiliation and exaltation; vocation; regeneration; faith; justification; sanctification; the law of God; the sacraments; eschatology.

Biblical and Ecclesiastical History.

The Junior Class is instructed in Old Testament History as it stands related to the Christian Dispensation, and the general history of the world before Christ.

The study of Church History is pursued with the Middle Class from the founding of the Christian Church to the period of the Reformation. The Seniors are occupied with the period following the Reformation and extending to the present time, including the history of the separate church organizations in Europe, America, and the East.

The whole course is conducted by lecture and recitation upon the subject of the lecture, with constant reference to original authorities and the best books for collateral reading. Special attention is given throughout to the historical order of revelation and development of doctrine, to Christian life, and the relations of the Church to the world.

Ecclesiastical, Homiletic, and Pastoral Theology.

Sacred Rhetoric is made a study of the first year, with the help of a text-book (Vinet's Homiletics, at present), and lectures, followed by exercises in the analysis of texts, and writing of skeletons.

Church Government is made a study of the second year, mostly by lectures. These embrace the nature of the Church, and the different schemes of Church polity; membership in the Church; the baptized; the full communicants; officers of the Church; commission, succession, and parity of Ministers; ruling Elders, in the warrant, qualifications, duties, and tenure of the office; Deacons, in the origin, importance, distinct and perpetual use of the office; Church Courts, in their warrant, gradation, and power.

Pastoral Theology is studied in the third year. A call to the Ministry; the aptitudes and attainments required; the duties, relations, and responsibilities of the pastoral care; the Ordinances of Divine appointment in the Church; Ordinances of worship, including the sacraments and public prayer, preaching and praise in the pastoral administration; systematic beneficence, etc.; Discipline, in its principles, forms of procedure, subjects, objects, etc. These and other topics connected are treated historically, as well as discussed in the light of Scripture, and according to the standards of the Presbyterian Church.

Christian Ethics and Apologetics.

This department, which was instituted by the Directors at their annual meeting in 1871, is, as yet, only partially developed.

The first course includes a brief series of introductory lectures on Religion and Religions in general; their Phenomenology, Psychology, Relations to Morality, Criteria, etc.; a discussion of the nature of Moral Evidence in general and of Historical Evidence in particular; and a series of lectures on the historical nature of Christianity and its authenticating documents.

The second is an ethical course, discussing Christian Ethics theoretically, historically, and in their living connection with various branches of Social Science, together with the moral and practical relations of Christianity to civilization, thus illustrating and vindicating Christianity on its ethical side.

It is designed subsequently to treat in a similar way the relations of Christianity to natural and speculative science.

The Stone Lectureship.

The foundation created by L. P. Stone, Esq., for an annual course of lectures upon some topic kindred to Theological studies will be available for this purpose hereafter. Arrangements have already been made for the ensuing year and an incumbent selected.

Rhetorical Exercises and Sermonizing.

Dr. C. W. HODGE presides at the weekly speaking of the Junior and Middle Classes, each member of which is, in his turn, expected to deliver original discourses, memoriter.

The weekly preaching of the Senior Class, which is likewise memoriter, is under the direction of Dr. MCGILL, who also has exercises with all the classes in extempore speaking, in writing sermons, and in preparing written criticisms upon the sermons of others.

Special instruction is given in the art of elocution, with appropriate vocal exercises, by Prof. S. G. PEABODY, and also by Prof. MARK BAILEY, of New Haven, who is in attendance at the Seminary for a limited term in the session. An endowment has been recently contributed from the estate of the late John C. Green, Esq., for the support of a permanent teacher of Elocution; and it is expected that fuller and more satisfactory arrangements will be made in consequence for instruction in this department. Weekly lessons in vocal music are given by Mr. THEODORE E. PERKINS, of New York City. This is without cost to the student, the expenses being borne by generous friends of the Seminary.

Every student is required, prior to graduation, to exhibit to the Professor of Homiletic Instruction two lectures and four popular sermons, which shall be approved by him.

Optional Studies.

Hebrew is the only Oriental language which is taught in the regular course; but such students as desire it may be instructed in Chaldee, Syriac, Arabic, or in the elements of Sanskrit.

Private classes may also be formed for classical reading, Biblical exegesis, or other subjects collateral to the course.

On application to the Professors of the College, students can have the privilege of attending lectures in that institution.

Instruction in the French and German languages can be obtained from competent teachers at the student's expense.

Religious Exercises.

Daily prayers, which every student is expected to attend, are conducted in the morning by members of the Senior Class, and in the evening by the Professors.

On Sabbath morning the Professors preach in rotation in the Seminary Chapel. In the afternoon a conference is held in the oratory, at which the Professors conduct the discourse on a subject previously announced, and the students conduct the devotional exercises.

Missionary meetings are held every Sabbath evening among the students. The Concert of Prayer on the first Monday of each month is under the direction of the Professors.

Various other meetings for devotion or mutual exhortation are maintained either by the students as a body, or by each class separately, by the graduates of the several colleges, etc.

Opportunities for active usefulness and observation of pastoral life are afforded in the Churches of Princeton and its vicinity, there being nearly twenty Presbyterian Churches, besides those of other denominations, within some ten miles of the Seminary.

Library.

The library edifice is the gift of James Lenox, LL.D., of New York, who is at present erecting an additional building, which will afford much more ample accommodations. The library now contains about twenty-nine thousand bound volumes, chiefly theological, including, in addition to many rare and costly works, the large and unique collection of pamphlets presented by the Rev. Dr. Sprague, and the valuable library of Dr. Addison Alexander, the gift of Messrs. R. L. and A. Stuart. The Library has, from the generosity of the last-named gentlemen, a fund of ten thousand dollars, and from the estate of the late John C. Green, Esq., an additional fund of twenty-five thousand dollars, whose annual proceeds are devoted to its maintenance and increase. By the same liberal donors, provision has been made for the permanent support of a Librarian, whose entire service will be given to the Library. It is open three hours of every weekday for reading and consultation, and for drawing books. Text-books may be kept out during the entire term.

Students also have the privilege of using the Library of the College.

The reading-room is under the management of the Alexander Society, and is well supplied with the leading newspapers and periodicals. Students are admitted on the payment of a small annual fee.

Stuart Hall.

This admirable structure, recently completed, affords the most ample and complete accommodations in the way of lecture-rooms and apartments devoted to other public uses of the institution.

Rooms, etc.

The commodious buildings of the Seminary, which have recently been thoroughly renovated, afford ample accommodations for students. The rooms, both in the original edifice and in Brown Hall, are furnished with a bed, bedstead, bureau, washstand, chairs, table, bookcase, and clothes-press. Whatever may be needed or desired beyond this must be supplied by the students themselves.

Expenses.

There is no charge for tuition or room-rent. The only fees required of students are $10 for the general expense fund, to pay the cost of warming and lighting the public rooms, the attendance of servants, etc., and $1 for the use of the library.

Board is furnished at the refectory for $3.50 per week, and in private families for $4 or $5; or the students may, at their discretion, form themselves into clubs, and vary the cost at their pleasure. At present the cost in clubs has been reduced to $3.

Fuel costs from $8 to $15 per annum; and washing $1.50 per month. Total of necessary expenses for the Seminary year from $175 to $200.

Books can be bought at a liberal discount, and many class-books are provided in the library.

Gas-light may be had in the Seminary at the option of the student.

Reports to Presbyteries.

Annual reports are sent to Presbyteries of the attendance upon the exercises of the Seminary of the students under their care.

Examination.

The next annual examination will begin on Thursday, April 18th, and be continued until the following Monday. The Committee of Examination, appointed by the Board of Directors for the present session, consists of—Principals: Rev. John Maclean, D.D., LL.D., Rev. J. Edson Rockwell, D.D., Rev. John M. Dickey, D.D., Rev. William M. Paxton, D.D., Rev. Samuel Miller, D.D., Rev. James McCosh, D.D., LL.D., Rev. Henry J. Vandyke, D.D., Levi P. Stone, Esq., Henry Day, Esq., Aaron B. Belknap, Esq. Alternates: Rev. William D. Snodgrass, D.D., Rev. George W. Musgrave, D.D., LL.D., Rev. Robert Hamill, D.D., Rev. Joseph T. Smith, D.D., Rev. Abraham Gosman, D.D., Rev. James O. Murray, D.D., Rev. Joseph T. Duryea, D.D., Robert Carter, Esq., Hon. George Sharswood, LL.D., Hon. John K. Findlay.

The examination is public, and the presence of visitors, particularly from Presbyteries having students under their care, will be welcomed.

Students who are absent from the examination of their own class, or who fail to pass this test in a satisfactory manner, must submit to an examination with the corresponding class in a subsequent year.

The Academical Year

Opens on the first Thursday of September, and closes on the last Wednesday of April.

The Annual Meeting of the Board of Directors will be held on Monday, April 22d, at 4 P.M.

The usual certificates will be conferred on the next graduating class on Tuesday, April 23d, in the presence of the Board of Directors, when the students will be dismissed with an address by the Rev. J. Edson Rockwell, D.D., or his alternate, the Rev. Samuel Miller, D.D.

The annual sermon, at the close of the session, will be preached by the Rev. William M. Paxton, D.D., or in case of his absence, by the Rev. Abraham Gosman, D.D., his alternate.

The address before the Religious Contribution Society, will be delivered on Thursday evening, April 4th.

Vacation.

The long summer vacation presents a suitable opportunity for engaging in teaching, or in other remunerative occupations. Students are particularly encouraged to spend their vacation in practical Christian work, under the direction or with the approbation of their pastors or Presbyteries. This will furnish a most important supplement to the scholastic training of the Seminary, affording an experience and a familiarity with the active duties of the ministry, which will be invaluable as a part of their preparation for the sacred office.

Students are not advised to engage in teaching or in other distracting occupations during term time, with a view to self-support. This is found to interfere seriously with their attention to study, and is rendered unnecessary by the aid which they may receive from the funds of the Seminary, from the Board of Education, and from the liberality of private benefactors.

Location of the Seminary.

The seclusion and quiet of a rural village is particularly favorable to academic occupation. It was for this, among other reasons, that the General Assembly, after mature deliberation, selected Princeton as the site of the oldest Seminary of the Church, in preference to the large cities, where there is so much to divert the mind, to dissipate the thoughts, and to interfere with assiduous devotion to study.

Gifts and Bequests to the Seminary.

The corporate name of the body in charge of the property of the Seminary is "The Trustees of the Theological Seminary of the Presbyterian Church." Gifts may, at the pleasure of donors, be directed to the Permanent Fund, which is for support of the Professors; to the Education Fund, which is for the aid of needy students; to the Contingent Fund, which is for defraying the general expenses of the Institution, its buildings, grounds, etc.; to the Sustentation Fund, designed to diminish the expense of boarding; to the Library Fund, or to any other important object connected with the Seminary. The value of a scholarship is from $2500, which is the minimum, to $3000.

Alumni Association of the Seminary.

The Alumni Association of the Seminary will hold its annual meeting in the Seminary Chapel on Tuesday, April 23d, when it is expected that a Necrological Report will be presented, and free discussions will be held on pre-arranged topics. The Alumni will dine together in the Seminary Refectory. The officers of the Association for the present year are as follows: President, Rev. SAMUEL IRENÆUS PRIME, D.D., of New York; Vice-President, Rev. JAMES R. GRAHAM, D.D., of Winchester, Va.; Secretary, Rev. WILLIAM E. SCHENCK, D.D., of Philadelphia; Treasurer, Rev. WILLIAM HARRIS, of Princeton, N. J. These, with the Rev. ROGER OWEN, D.D., Rev. JAMES M. CROWELL, D.D., and Rev. MATTHEW NEWKIRK, constitute the Executive Committee.
