

Doddie
27, Paternoster Row.

TELEGRAPHIC ADDRESS.
EXPOSITOR LONDON.

London, 7 July 1886
E.C.

Dear Sir William

I saw Miss Hood start today & find the article was sent to you yesterday, and I have no doubt you are returning it by tonight's post.

I was not at Meldray on Thursday, but was there all day Friday, and greatly enjoyed the services. Your paper on Wednesday was greatly appreciated. My friend Mr. J. D. Denny, one of our most prominent Christian Merchants was late, and I secured for him a seat near to you, for which he was thankful and afterwards told me how greatly he valued your address. Miss Hood also (who is a very accomplished woman) greatly enjoyed it.

I have now much pleasure

in forwarding you our statement of account, and Cheque for amount due to you (£23.17.6)

I forgot to ask you when you think you will have ready "The Beginnings of life". You will see by account that we have sufficient copies of "Fossil Man" to last us for about 2 years!

We could bind as many sets of your books as you may wish in the same colour cloth to match as nearly as possible, but the letterings would be as now. Would it not be better to put them in leather backs: they could then be lettered uniformly?

I will send you some copies of the British Weekly, & Dr. Estabill shall have a copy of "Eden Lost & Won"

Yours very sincerely

M. H. Hodder

Sir William Dawson F.R.S. &c

MCGILL UNIVERSITY ARCHIVES
ACC. NO.	1463
REF.	642