Dear Mr William

I have been wandering all over the northern and western Isles. After so many days out & recd of letters and hence I am only now back in this Babylon with your letter of 21st July & packets of specimens before me

Things I fear you may have missed and that there

Maybe some chance that this letter will not reach you, I send a few lines at the same, to thank you for writing regarding your observations and for sending the specimens.
The Angles of Holywell will repose to give us much light as to their age and history. One of the markings you send is suggestive of a fracture.

but these suggestions are often casperating, for they seldom go beyond a vague resemblance and never display any organic structure.

I shall be glad to know if your examination of specimens with the microscope is more successful

You do not say whether you are coming back to London before you return to Canada. If you do come here I shall like to see a little more of you.

I go to Ireland on inspecting duty about the 15th of this month but expect to be back here early in Sep-tember

Yours very truly
Wm Geikie
