Dear Sir William

I was very glad to hear from you, but much regret that I can find out nothing about Sir W. Bogans' maps & note books, which you would like to have. It much appear to you strange that we should have set so little value on them as to lose sight of them altogether, they were never brought here, and my sister at Chertis Terrace in London, where most things were taken from Castle Malgoups after my Aunt's death, says, she can find no trace of them there; she has also enquired at Stanfords, but they have had none since the maps they published in 1866.

I am extremely sorry therefor not to be able to find them for you & can assure you that if they ever turn up you shall have them at once. Many thanks for the paper you have sent me on Fossil Shells. I have got your "Relics of Domestic Life" also. I should so ~~like~~ liked to have met you

When you were in England and when you come home again and have some leisure shall be so glad if you can spare a few days to come to Coals.

With kindest regards

Believe me

Yours sincerely
J. Stewart
