

TELEGRAPHIC ADDRESS,
EXPOSITOR LONDON.

Flodder
27. Paternoster Row.

London. 18 Aug 1897

E.C.
My dear Sir William

Your letters of July 30, & Aug 6, are before me. I am attending to your wishes about Table of Zoological Chronology of life. With reference to your papers for the Expositor, kindly send them on as soon as ready I will get them into type at once & when you have revised them I will print 200 for your own use, as repeated.

I am very sorry to hear that you do not pick up strength, and that you are feeling the burden of years. You have fought a good fight! You have borne a faithful testimony for Our Divine Lord, when the time comes (which I hope may be at a considerable distance)

the "Crown of Righteousness" which is laid up, will be ready for you.

I shall always deem that I have been greatly privileged in having had a share of your very kind consideration. It has been a great satisfaction to me to <sup>have</sup> enjoyed your confidence as a man of business, and your fellowship as a Christian.

I am sorry to say my dear Wife is still a Cripple, but we have many mercies. Did she know I was writing, I am sure she would wish to unite with me in kind regards to Lady Dawson & yourself.

P.S. Kindly accept
Dr. Nichol's little book I send by mail.

Ever Believe me
My dear Sir William
Yours Sincerely
W. H. Hodder

Sir J. William Dawson S.D.
