My dear Sir

I say many thanks for the valuable & highly interesting pamphlet you so kindly sent me from the publishers. As for me, I have never been drawn into the prevailing view of "evolution", but hold with you & the late Prof. Huxley, Clerk Maxwell, & others who take the same view. The latter days of poor Combes were most impressive, & I am much pleased to find the younger school of Oxford Natural Science men adopting so good a name & designate their endowed lectures as the "Robert Boyle Lectures" which I have read with great pleasure in far as I can enter into them, especially Sir H. Reade's inaugural lecture. I beg you to accept a little book of Poems which I sent by Goodport today, I hope you will find some things in them to interest you.

The B. Assoc. will be in Bristol this year, but I am sorry that I cannot expect to attend any meetings from continued infirmity of health & age.

I earnestly hope that by God's blessing you are now in better & stronger health. With kindest wishes
B.S. It is to me a <sup>great</sup> ~~pleasure~~ <sup>comfort</sup> to know that our <sup>own</sup> ~~our~~ <sup>very</sup> sincere yours
Blessed Saviour is the <sup>author</sup> ~~author~~ <sup>author</sup> of all things by the word of His power. Henry George Farquhar
I remember how good you used to be delight in this
