Dear Papa

I enclose my account of expenses for the three vacation months & hope you will find them correct. I think there is not much omission. Having sufficient money I have paid my Laboratory fees for the first three months.

(£15-) The course in the Nat Lab generally only takes 6 months to complete & leaves some time for grinding for the exams). I have thus got just to the end of my money (except the £30 scholarship).

I suppose you will have heard of Prof Huxley's new book, just out a manual of Vertebrate anatomy.
I have got a copy & find it very useful but exceedingly condensed & consequently hard to read.

You will have seen Notices of Sir R. Murchison's death. It took place last Sunday evening. He is to be buried tomorrow in Brompton Cemetery where his wife already is.

The Museum &c at Jermyn St are to be shut up for the day.

With best love
Your affectionate Son

George
