My dear Papa

Your two kind letters with the enclosure received on my return from the Isle of Wight on Friday night.
I am sorry you had the trouble of writing a second letter, as the first one with the incorrect address, was delivered safely here. I do most sincerely thank you for the cheque of £10, & I appreciate your kind thought very much indeed, but I am sorry that you deferred yourself of that amount - for I really have plenty now to meet our expenses, and now that Will is doing so well financially we would be only too glad to be a help to you, ⁱⁿ as an acknowledgement of all your & Mamma's great kindness to us, & as an evidence of our gratitude to you both.

This expedition of Will's in the North West will help to fill his pocket, besides the saving of expense of living in town. Nevertheless I appreciate your kind thought - I value most fully - but -!

I am exceedingly sorry to hear that you have had so much hard work in college matters - hope you will take every advantage of the rest & quiet that there is to be found at Detroit, this past session has been a very trying one for you, which makes it all the more necessary for you to have a thorough rest from college, & other work.

How came it to pass, that two English men have been appointed to the new chairs? no doubt this was Mr. Kover's doing - we will see him as Principal of McGill tomorrow, he is aspiring enough to fill a high position!

Please thank Madame for her kind letter which I received after having written her from Detroit last week.
I think you must both be missing our dear Eva now; it was pleasant for you all I have had her with you for so long at Detroit.

I have not yet seen Rankins, I was not aware of his being in England till last Friday. I have written him, & we hope to meet soon. —

Peter & Owen are very well & very good. I have not forgotten any of you.

We are enduring most trying weather. I think it has rained every day since I arrived. It is so intensely cold withal. I have now come to the conclusion that Canada is preferable to England, as far as the climate is concerned certainly. I shall know how I appreciate ^{Canada} better, on my return.
