

Have been inquiring about ^{humorists} ~~humorists~~ & am strongly advised not to take a low priced one Have seen a very superb one at
41. 5. Pilgrimage Place
Edin.
I am writing you to let you know that you have found very valuable information.

the telegram I dispatched before leaving the station last ev. I may only add in regard to the journey that it was made very comfortably. Had I only Amiri-tality to poetry scenes I could amuse you with an account of that old maiden lady you saw in the same compartment who took the hint from you. One of our that I was some precious bitter that it infallibly be lost or stolen if she did not preserve it. He wanted to know if I was hot or if I was cold - regretted as you had said that I had forgotten my waterproof. Pressed me immediately to partake of some of his spongy Coke she was so sure I had had an early breakfast & no doubt had been packing I had not had time to eat. He will have given me his history back to Adam & expect mine in return for which before the end of our journey (as I had invited his Curiosity by telling a little girl whom I had on my lap for a while some stories about ships & having been lately on the sea) his best gold ring he knows. One of his dearest friends is Mrs Series Mother-in-law to Sir A. Prout. 'What she has liked to know who I was & all about me??

I saw Mr Bell was writing for me. The former is shockingly Crotchety. I found fault with his before I left the Station. Fortunately his Children speak better. & the young ones are very nice girls. Here there has been long draught & today East wind & steadily rain.

We propose to go to Musselburgh in the afternoon. I take one or two of the Music shops on our way to inquire about harmonium.
Jane has one which she got second hand she thinks it was a rare chance. I that no new one will be worth taking under £15.
The value of hers is £22. As the Music does not seem to suit the lay. I shall add a word about what has occupied me during the day. The talk is under.
