

[Extremely dense and illegible handwritten cursive script covering the entire page.]

We have had a gala evening this Friday, since 10 o'clock we have received 9 visitors, this was nearly 12 o'clock, & full since I was in bed enjoying how early we breakfast.
Mr. Pelt & J. White have been here all were well, we may not look for more than two or three other such papers of J. Good water, the time is very near and please me much & thank you. Although I have very much to tell you, this night I cannot write, here, this evening I begin a letter to my friends, interruptions occur constantly J. Mother wants for me, sends George Tomorrow to see what I am doing

If I much go, leave my letter, with little chance of being able to add another line to it, for some time.
Probly upon hearing from me in all Decell in June or July, when I do hope to satisfy you with a long long epistle. Excuse this ill written non-sensical production where its purpose is to wish to be sent across the Atlantic. yr Father & Mother are this day very well & perfectly satisfied with their little mail carrier, who, you will believe would for their & yr sake do all in his power to attend them.
Now my sweet girl think that I see you on Sunday, that we may