

Black
Dinner

by Aberdeen

My dear Lady Dawson

I was so grieved

to see by the Papers

you had been injured

by the accident. Had

I known your address

I would have gone to see you. But must go on - your son not mentioning your being ill - or suffering in

Any way that
The shock was all you experienced. I know you & your Husband are to be in Scotland later on & we should so much
like to see you there I write thus early
that you can have told me what time
will suit you to Come. (to your Mother of course) As we have friends with us here

& of course relays
are coming that we should like to know
at once please about the time you can be with us. The quiet
here is delightful & I know your good husband would

Enjoy the fresh bracing air as much as you will.
My husband is now writing
letters for your son
as he wished.

With best love to your daughter &
kind regards to your husband & self.

Believe me yours
sincerely Helen Fargie.
