My dear Mother,

Mr Samba
of the Survey here told me today that he intended going to Montreal on Monday to see father about some sponge specimens in the Museum. I told him that I thought he had better postpone his visit for a few days, as it was unlikely that father would be able to attend to him at present. I have not heard today how father is, but you might send me a post Card when you get this, to say whether it would be advisable for me to go to Worcester now or to wait.

I hope that father is not fretting at his supposed inaction, but finds some congenial occupation to hold away the time. It would have been proper for

We have gone to Montreal today & Suffice to pay you a visit, but it has been hard to get away from wellers here. Dr Selwyn is again laid up. Today I had a short visit from Mr & Mrs Taylor who have returned to Montreal by this afternoon's train.

Yours
Seagr
