Dearest Mother,

Just a line to assure you all goes on well here, especially the weather which continues fine, though a shade colder.

I went - this a. m. - to hear Mr Way at 9.45 - I assure you he preaches a very definite & thorough doctrine, of a class not often heard in the cathedral apparently proper efforts have not been made to attract hearers for the attendance was slender & largely recruited from those who cling to the "inco-venanted services" - but also on saw some faces not often at such services his & Mr Fred Lyman, & some very high people

I wish it might receive the offer too - I am told that great numbers of men attend in the evening - when it is a gasful address - Good English good manners, education & the clerical dress, combined with a scriptural spiritual teaching are not very common here -

I enclose a card & as I shall have to decline mine I shall say you are away at the same time

I trust you arrived safely - & are receiving the helpful repose before long & all going well - I forwarded a telegram yesterday from Lord Alverton - affectionately

Amos
