My dear Mother,

Harriette telephoned to me last night to say that she had heard from you & that you had recovered from your late illness, which I was very glad to hear. I only heard of your attack on Tuesday & I've been anxious since to know. Whatever produced the result I hope you will avoid it in future.

William took drives with me on Friday & seems fairly well - in fact to all appearance I don't know why I should not say - try well.

Tried to persuade him that Sunday morning in bed to wake up amens would do him good - I am sure it would as I take the remedy myself.

Nothing further from Rankin who I suppose is still in Victoria.

I am promised to go to Toronto this week, probably on Wednesday night, on some matters connected with the forthcoming meeting of the British Association there.

Quite a bother the whole thing - as if there were not enough trouble without inventing meetings & Congresses & such.

Yours

Gray
